Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☐ Responsive to communication(s) filed on ____.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hosokawa (6,367,811).

Hosokawa discloses a lip seal with a first reinforcing member 9 having a wall surface part defining a hole (inner diameter of 9) and a cylindrical part (see Fig. 8). The seal has a first sealing member 13 including an annular base (near 5a/b) joined to the housing 31. A first lip extends almost conical inwardly. An annular concave part formed (via portion 4, i.e. the shape of 2-4 forms a concave) on the base allows the cylindrical part of member 9 to be detachably fit.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 2-10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
4. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art of record, taken as a whole, does not show nor suggest the combination of limitations required by the claims. As stated above, Hosokawa discloses various elements of the seal. Hosokawa also includes a second sealing member 7 and a second reinforcement member 21.

Art Unit: 3673

However, these members lack specific features required by the claims. For example, member 9 does not include an additional inner cylindrical part that sandwiches the base with the cylindrical part. The second reinforcing member 21 also lacks a cylindrical part that is fitted to the inside of the base of first sealing member. Balsells '205, Ikeda '521, Ikeda '096, Nasagawa '153, Shimasaki '802, Nagasawa '104, and McCormick '719 are all considered relevant prior art. Most of these references disclose the limitation in claim 1 and a few limitations in the other claims. However all lack required features such as the inner cylindrical part required in claim 2. And, others disclose parts that could be the second sealing member and reinforcing member. However, most don't disclose that the second reinforcing member is fitted to the first member "on a side opposite" the first member. Shimasaki, for example, teaches a second reinforcing member fitted to the opposite side of the first member. However, Shimasaki, like Hosokawa, lacks a cylindrical part fitted to the inside of the base. Thus, none of the prior art appears to disclose the combination of limitations required by the claims. And, there does not appear to be any motivation, absent Applicant's own disclosure to modify the prior art in the manner required by the claims.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
